Alpha Tau Earns 7th Highest Spot in Philanthropic Hours among Kappa Sigma Chapters

Chapter Boasts 22 New Members from Last Two Pledge Classes

By Samuel C. Atkinson, GM

The brothers of Alpha Tau had a very successful fall semester, boasting a pledge class of 17 worthy men and earning the 7th most philanthropic hours of all Kappa Sigma chapters. During the fall semester, the chapter volunteered 1,249 hours and raised more than $1,400 with events including a blood drive, cornhole tournament, and golf tournament.

Alpha Tau is also off to a great start this semester, with a spring class of five pledges: Patrick Murray Belton, Berkeley Reynolds Brown, Jeremy T. Craig, Brian T. David and Eric F. Shults. The brothers are also hosting a softball tournament on April 11th to raise money for charity. All chapters are invited to attend to try and compete against the Alpha Tau brothers.

We're looking forward to another Yellow Jacket football season, which will be here before you know it! If you're back in Atlanta this summer or fall, make plans to stop by the house to meet the active chapter and share stories from your own days at Kappa Sig.

Alpha Tau Brother was On Board Hudson River Flight

Charles Spiggle '92 Credits Pilot and First Responders for Amazing No-Casualty Emergency Landing

By Jimmy Fortuna '91

When brother Charles Spiggle '92 boarded US Air flight 1549 to head home on Thursday, January 15th, it was far from the first time. The flight had the virtue of being one of the only ones returning to his home in Charlotte, NC early enough for him to see his family at a reasonable hour. On that day, however, the routine flight was anything but normal, and he was soon worried that it might very well be his last.

"I never thought I'd ever be in a plane crash, but it looks like I picked a good one at least."

Just moments off of the runway the plane struck a flock of geese, and the fate of everyone on board suddenly hung in the balance. As we all know now, Captain Chesley Sullenberger was able to execute an amazing feat of aeronautical skill that afternoon - a casualty-free water landing into the Hudson River. The professionalism of Captain Sullenberger and his aircrew, the calm of the passengers and the speed with which New York City's first responders brought aid to bear all helped to prevent what could have easily become a large and tragic loss of life. In the moments after the massive bird strike on brother Spiggle's plane, however, he could not know that the event would later be described as "The Miracle on the Hudson;" he knew only that his plane was in serious trouble. As he told Tech Topics magazine in a recent interview, the thought going through his head was chilling. "After all the times of thinking this could happen," he said, "it's going to happen."

The three-and-a-half minutes that elapsed between the loss of power in both of the Airbus A320's turbofan engines and Captain Sullenberger's deft landing seemed like 20 to 25 minutes to brother Spiggle. At first everyone aboard and on the ground thought the aircraft would make an emergency return to La Guardia airport, but it was not to be. The plane did not have enough airspeed, altitude or power to make an emergency landing at La Guardia or any other airport. Very little time elapsed between brother Spiggle's realization that the plane would be landing in the Hudson River and the landing itself, but it was plenty enough to think about his wife Kelly and his two children Caroline and Jackson. "I can keep my head. I can get out of the plane. I have a wife and two kids," he thought.

And he did get out. Swiftly rescued and cared for along with 150 fellow passengers, Brother Spiggle immediately began receiving an outpouring of help and care from his colleagues at Wachovia, including a brand new suit of clothes from Brooks Brothers and chartered flight home to his family the next morning. Meanwhile, it wasn't long before Alpha Tau's email listserv was streaming with messages, brothers all over the country shocked to learn that he was on the plane and relieved to know that all was well.

On Saturday morning brother Spiggle took a few moments to send out a word of thanks to all of his well-wishers at Alpha Tau.

"Thanks everybody for worrying about me," he said. "I never thought I'd ever be in a plane crash, but it looks like I picked a good one at least. Pilot, first responders, ferry crews, fellow passengers were all great. I look forward to seeing all of you at the tailgate this fall."

Amen to that brother Spiggle. Amen.

FROM THE ARCHIVES

Back in 1956...

At the opening of school, the campus's third oldest fraternity started its quest for those elusive IFC points. Among the honors taken were second places in the 'Reck parade and cross-country meet, a league championship in football and fourth in swimming. At homecoming their neat modern house boasted a great display, one of the best. Fall quarter saw a pledge class of 38 and the welcome addition of a house mother, first in chapter history...Kappa Sigma is well represented in almost every campus honorary and activity.

Bob Beach and Russ McDonough are the editors of the Engineer and the Technique, respectively. Brothers Baker and Thornwell are active in Student Council work, and Lynn Fowler is Bulldog Club president...Self-reputedly party champions of the campus, the Kappa Sigs started another spectacular year with a real gone party after the Miami game. Big events of the social year were the traditional Black and White Formal, the Founders' Day celebration and a very informal house party.

(akphelps@bechtel.com) I still work for Bechtel after 30 years and have moved to northwestern British Columbia with my wife Barbara to manage the construction of a $3 billion aluminum smelter for Rio Tinto Alcan. I climbed Mont Blanc in France last year with my two sons, who are both at Georgia Tech. Michael is a freshman EE and Edward is working toward his PhD in Biomedical Engineering.

Alumni Respond to Previous Alpha Taukers

Thank you to the following alumni for participating in the continuation of discussions and/or articles that were originally published in the past few issues of The Alpha Tauker.

"The beer in the coke machine idea was started when I was GM in 1970. It was an idea that Ken Slaman '71 came up with to help raise money to purchase some new living room furniture. We had several brothers who had military fathers, so they could make purchases at the Ft. McPherson PX. We would make as many runs as needed to fill up the machine with 3.2% alcohol beer. Ken's idea was to fill up every other empty can with sand, so that your first quarter got you a can of sand and the second quarter got you a beer! It worked very well and the additional funds helped us purchase new furniture.

- Steve Norris '71, in response to Kappa Sig Jukebox Memories in the November 2008 issue.

"It was cool to see the story about the jukebox in the pit. During my last year at Tech, the EMI guy was bringing in new songs and some of the great classics were being removed so he gave some of the 45's to me. They were very worn but now I have those exact 45's of 'Amos Moses,' 'Polk Salad Annie' and I think 'Whiskey River' from Kappa Sig on an old jukebox my wife and I have in our basement (pit?!). Anyone remember the beer machine we had down there? Fifty cents for a cold bud, Heineken or 'mash?' Obstacle pool?"

- Jim Duncan '85, in response to Kappa Sig Jukebox Memories in the November 2008 issue.

"As I remember it, the first rock that had disappeared from time to time finally disappeared for good in the late '50s. A new rock was then obtained with the help of a pledge's father, who worked on the Stone Mountain Face Project at the time. It was delivered on a low boy truck and lifted it off by a tow truck and placed it at the corner. One of our neighboring fraternities dug the hole and buried it one night. If memory serves me right (no guarantees of that!), we dug around the rock, had another tow truck come in and lift it out of the hole. We then had concrete poured into the hole and reset the rock where it is today. This rock weighed about 4,000 pounds. So the whole thing now at the corner probably weighs in the ballpark of 5 tons. That's my story and I'm sticking to it. - Robert Soderholm '59, in response to

"The Origin of the Rock" in the March 2008 issue of Alpha Tauker. There's a great chain of other brothers' responses to this story at www.kappasigmagt.org.
